BVM 175th Jubilee Celebration in St. Louis

by Mary Nolan, BVM

As the BVM 175th anniversary of our founding approached, a small group of sisters and alums from St. Louis called a meeting to talk about a local celebration. We briefly revisited our BVM history in the area:

- St. Francis Xavier elementary school opened in 1906 and continued until 1989;
- Xavier High School opened in 1931 and contributed 43 years of excellence in education, closing in 1974;
- BVMs ministered at St. Timothy Parish and School from 1960 to 1987.

Since then, BVMs have continued to be present, in smaller numbers, in a variety of ministries: diocesan administration, education, pastoral care, and justice and peace work. The memories brought stories, laughter and some tears.

Because of our long-standing relationship with the Jesuits, we planned a celebration and reception at the St. Louis University College Church. We wondered if anyone would come.

Nine months later, on April 20, the familiar doors of the College Church opened and the alumnae from four decades of Xavier came along with families, friends and students. There was a jubilant procession as 20 BVMs and Associates entered the church and 400 voices sang "Glory and Praise to Our God."

Mary Ann Zollman, BVM vice-president and former student and faculty member at Xavier, welcomed the joyful crowd and acknowledged all present by inviting groups to stand as their part in the BVM circle of affection was described: BVMs and Associates, former students, colleagues, former staff members and those who partner with us in parish work and justice ministries.

The last group she invited to stand was the St. Louis University students who regularly attend this weekend liturgy. How fitting that a vibrant group of young people be present and witness our commitment and service through the years!

When the entire church was standing, she said: "Our standing together as a community is the best and truest testimony to what our foundress Mary Frances Clarke believed and lived: when all is said and done, life's meaning is experienced in the beauty and power of relationships."

A simple reception followed the Liturgy. It was obvious that the miracle of enduring affection continues even today as stories of the past blended with conversations about getting together in the future.

This local celebration was living proof that the seeds planted in 1833 of love, laughter and BVM values of education, charity, justice and freedom continue from one generation to the next.

About the author: Mary Nolan, BVM (Patricia Mary) lives in St. Louis, where she has been a parish minister, senior advocate and BVM regional representative. She is currently on sabbatical.

Former Xavier Student and Teacher Elected BVM President

Sister Mary Ann Zollmann (Clement Mary) was elected to the BVM Leadership Team this past June as President. She will serve a 4-year term with Sister Mira Mosle, First Vice President, and Sister Teri Hadro, Second Vice President.

Sister Mary Ann is a graduate of the Xavier class of '59 and served on the faculty of Xavier from 1965-1972.

One of Sister Mary Ann's most vivid Xavier memories was the celebration of the BVMs 125 anniversary during her Junior year. She remembers a very large cake with 125 candles being wheeled out on the stage as we all sang. Sister Mary Ann fondly reflects, "What I learned in my student days at Xavier, carried into my teaching years there, and have held onto my whole life is the importance of relationships as the ground for all that we are and do professionally. As we celebrate our (the BVM) 175th and I assume my position as President, I know that I first learned at Xavier the wisdom of Mary Frances Clarke, foundress of the BVM community: 'Leave the future to God; I have no fears so long as you are working unitedly.'"

Dear Xavier Alumnae,

We have a special favor to ask of you...

We have always valued the bond you have with the Sisters of Charity, BVM and the special place the alumnae of Xavier High School hold in the hearts of all BVMs.

For the past seven years, the BVM Development Office has provided the Xavier Alumnae Newsletter to you free of charge. However, we are at a point in time that we need to analyze the future of this alumnae newsletter.

One of the challenges we are facing is that fewer and fewer Xavier alumnae are submitting alumnae updates which makes the task of publishing this annual newsletter increasingly difficult.

Another challenge is that the escalating costs of paper, printing and postage associated with this newsletter often fall to the BVM Congregation.

Last year, for the first time, a donation envelope was included in the newsletter with the hope that incoming donations would more than cover the newsletter production expenses.

In 2007 the cost for the printing and mailing the Xavier Alumnae Newsletter to 1,691 alumnae was just under $800.00. This figure did not include the cost of staff time for editing and layout of the newsletter. Eight donations were received through the newsletter envelope for a total of $435.00 or just over 54% of the cost. The remaining 46% of the production cost was absorbed by the BVM Congregation.

So we ask for your assistance if you want to continue receiving the Xavier Alumnae Newsletter into the future. Please send in your alumnae updates and consider making a donation. If you have suggestions for how to continue production of this newsletter, please contact the BVM Development Office.

We will be making a final decision regarding the future of the Xavier Alumnae Newsletter based on the response we receive to this year's publication. Any assistance you can provide would be most appreciated.

You are always remembered in the prayers of the Sisters of Charity, BVM.

Class Notes

Sister Geraldine (Adele) Moorman BVM (^40) remembers taking classes in the old Mansion. She is currently a resident of the Mount Carmel Motherhouse in Dubuque, Iowa and very much enjoys retirement.

Sister Mary France Moore, BVM (^43) is happy to be a member of the Marian Hall Community of the Mount Carmel Continuing Care Retirement Community since May 15, 2008. She comments that although it is the last leg of the journey it is still home to her. Her need for oxygen 24/7 made this move necessary, but she still enjoys life. She especially enjoys email and occasionally has “fun” identifying people in old pictures. For example, someone sent her a photo of an unidentified group from Xavier from which she recognized Bernice Boedecker, Audrey Brueggman and Marcella Fehling. She would enjoy hearing from people who “remember” her.

Virginia Collignon Maddox (^47) was one of 11 classmates from the Class of 1947 that attended their 60th reunion at the Viking Restaurant for a luncheon banquet on August 18, 2007. Also present were Pat Vagedes Hencken, Jeanette Voelkerding Oge, Rita Koetting, Carol Poisson Weiss, Marijo Morrissey Cutsinger, Gerogiann Molitor Hollobough, Virginia Collignon Maddox, Pat Long Newton, Mary Lou Kemper Hammond, Betty Baerveldt Glickert and Agnes Katzen-berger Klepacki. Agnes came all the way from Australia. Sharon Keely Dumtra and Frosene Thomas Georgeson were unable to attend, but sent greetings. Also present were Noella Poisson Kienstra (^49), Judy Poisson (^57) and Theresa Koetting (^49).

Charlene Twele Szwargulski (^52) and husband, Jess, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary along with their three children and eight grandchildren in Jamacia on May 30, 2007.

Maureen McCallon Prendergast and Stella Kennedy Francis (^55) sent information about the 50th Reunion of the Class of 1955. It was held on October 1, 2005 at Xavier Hall (Xavier High School). They said that many things have changed at Xavier. The chapel, gym, cafeteria and lockers are gone, but were pleased that the statue of the Sacred Heart was still there to greet them. They had Mass and a catered lunch in what used to be the Sisters’ community room on the third floor. They all took the elevator (“remember when we couldn’t enter the third floor and only the very sick or injured could use the elevator”). Maureen and Stella commented that the one thing that hadn’t changed for the class of ^55 was their warmth and caring for each other. They do offer a word of advice for future classes – have your luncheon or dinner elsewhere and then schedule a tour of the school for afterwards. The Class of

Xavier Alumnae Attend BVM 175th Jubilee Celebration in Dubuque

by Therese Koetting (^49)
BVM Associate

Shall we gather at the river? Yes, and with great gusto we three BVM Associates, Mary Rita Koetting (^47), Therese Koetting (^49) and Mary Clair Wenger, traveled to Dubuque, Iowa the weekend of June 20-22 to participate in the Congregation-wide celebration honoring the BVM Congregations 175th Jubilee.

The music, the liturgies, the dinners and especially the friendliness (as if you knew everyone there) made the days very special. We St. Louis Associates had the opportunity to visit two special places, the original convent site at St. Joseph’s Prairie on which one original building still stands, and the newly renovated Motherhouse at Mount Carmel in Dubuque.

The prairie convent offered a special country setting as we viewed a model of the original spread and sat in the shade of a tree that surely dated back to the 1840s. Mount Carmel Motherhouse offered a state of the arts renovation in efficiency, conservation and meeting the special needs of the retired sisters. The renovation, however, did not lose the Victorian charm as I had remembered it.

Most of the weekend activities occurred at the beautiful Grand River Center in downtown Dubuque, right on the Mississippi, a perfect gathering place for the 500 in attendance. The River was gorgeous in spite of its being so high and swift-moving as it carried flood waters south. Throughout the days strains of “Shall We Gather at the River” echoed in liturgies and entertainment very appropriately. The old-time spiritual will forever hold a special place in the hearts of all who attended.

Class of 1947 at their 60th reunion.

'55 found the staff of Xavier Hall to be very helpful and accommodating.

Beverly Hayden Schaper ('57) and husband Don love living in Florida. Their family consists of one daughter, Jeannine, and four sons, Bob, Tom, Rick and Scott. They all have wonderful families and have given Beverly and Don three granddaughters and nine grandsons. On September 26, 2007, Beverly and Don celebrated their 48th wedding anniversary.

Carol Korst Esser-Herko ('58) is semi-retired but still does tax returns. She also has a quilt ministry, making 30 to 40 lap quilts a year that are donated through the Gold Coast Quilters Guild to people who are served by organizations such as Aid to Victims of Domestic Abuse, The Migrant Center, The Children's Home Society, Hospice and other local organizations. They also made a large quilt that was donated to a returning military person through Quilts for Valor. Carol stated that Sister Mary Susan Evans, BVM was her Home Economics teacher in 1959 at Xavier and that Sister taught her the basics of sewing, cooking, setting the table and a good deal about decorum. Carol's family benefits from the cooking skills that began under Sister's firm but gentle tutelage. In 2006, Carol had the privilege of having a tour of Wright Hall in Chicago by Sister Mary Julia Clare Greene, BVM. Sister Julia Clare was Carol's journalism teacher and moderator of the Xavier News, for which Judy Darr Rebman and Carol served as co-editor.

Jeanne Darr McDonald ('60) is a five year breast cancer survivor who is loving every minute of being Grandma to five, being active in church work and volunteer activities and sharing life with Gary, her husband of 43 years.

Sister Irene Lukefahr, BVM ('61) has been sharing the life and mission of the BVM Congregation in Kumasi, Ghana, West Africa since March 2006. She volunteers at the Centre for Spiritual Renewal offering her skills as a certified massage therapist. Receiving a healing massage is a new and welcomed experience for many people in Ghana. Irene also teaches English to young women attending Holy Family Vocational School. In addition, Irene is attempting to help two schools secure running water! This summer, she participated in the 175th Jubilee of the BVM Congregation in Dubuque, Iowa. When not in Ghana, Irene shares BVM community in Sunnyvale, CA, not too far from her twin sister, Kathy Lukefahr-Jewell, also class of 1961. Irene plans to return to Ghana in September 2008.

Kathleen Scherer Nolan ('61) has been married for 40 years and has two children and eight grandchildren. She taught elementary school for 38 years in New York, Chicago and St. Louis and even though she is now retired, she is still substituting and tutoring at the school where she taught for 36 years. Kathleen also works for their family business.

Marge M. Clark, BVM ('62) After 30+ years, Marge left teacher-education in 2003. In 2004, she became a lobbyist with NETWORK: A national Catholic Social Justice Lobby. Marge writes that it is always challenging, sometimes rewarding, to urge legislators to make their decisions based on Catholic Social teaching principles – reminding them of the need for a preferential option for those with the least economic power.

Kathleen Young Flowers ('62) wrote that it is her pleasure to inform us that her classmate, Pam McIntyre ('62), was appointed President of the new St. Louis Community College at Wildwood. The college is the first all "green," state-of-the-art campus in the St. Louis area.

Carol Sue Naes Von Rump ('63) After a career in home health nursing, Sue retired in 2005. Her husband, David, "semi" retired in '06. Since then their motto has been "have a 5th wheel trailer, will travel." Their 4 yr old granddaughter, Michaela, loves to go camping with them. Sue volunteers in the RCIA program at their parish and at the free health clinic in Suggolk, VA. She especially remembers and is thankful for Sisters Mary Michaela, Julia Claire, Jean Gabriel, Jeanine, Paulita, Ida, Cyrilla, Myra and Ruth.

Kathleen Hufker Jamboretz ('64) Kathy's husband Frank retired Feb. 1, 2007. In 2002 they visited Branson, MO on a promotional weekend. They didn't buy the vacation package, but fell in love with the natural beauty of the area. The small parish 20 miles west, in Kimberling City, made a positive impression on them. They now live on a ridge and have awesome views both east and west of the Table Rock Lake. They look forward to visitors and making new friends. Kathy will be a Shaklee consultant and will start her business venture later in 2007.

Sister Regina Qualls, BVM ('64) taught Spanish at Xavier from 1970-1974. After Xavier closed she continued to teach Spanish in St. Louis (Nerinx Hall), Chicago (Immaculata HS), and Dubuque (Clarke College). From 1992 – 1997 Sister Regina worked for the BVM congregation, returning to Clarke College as Registrar from 1997 – 2001. She is presently serving as Secretary of the Congregation. Sister Regina comments, "I have very happy memories of my days at Xavier, and I especially enjoyed my years as a faculty member. Xavier will always be one of my favorite places.”

Ann Hiles and Debbey (Shelley) Greulich (‘66) wrote that they sat across from each other in kindergarten in 1954 at St. Francis Xavier Grade School. They recall that Sister Mary Celine reprimanded them on the first day of school for being ‘chatty’ and they have been ‘chatty’ ever since. There was a third member of their threesome, Janie Miller (now Hopper). She was always the sensible one and went home when Debbey and Ann were about to “cross over to the dark side!” The three of them have remained good friends over the years. Both Jane and Debbey married and raised families. Jane lives in Kansas City with her second husband, David Hooper. Janie was diagnosed with MS. Debbey remained in St. Louis. Ann was the nomad of the group and could never settle down. From 1990-2001, Ann’s father lived with her in Florida. of St. Louis. The threesome all turns 60 this year – Debby in January, Janie in June and Ann in August. Ann and Debby commented that they still carry many of the values that the BVMs taught them at St. Francis and at Xavier. They considered their BVM teachers as their friends, confidants, disciplinarians and role models and are grateful to the Sisters for instilling in them the foundations of faith, learning, ethics and morals.

Sandy Gardner Wallbridge ('71) sent in information about their classes 35th class reunion held in December of 2006. Sandy reported that they had a great turnout considering that they started planning in October and had the event just after Christmas. The event was held at Favazza's on the Hill.

Diane Gutting Venker ('72) wrote that the Class of '72 had their 35th reunion in September. Sixty-seven were in attendance.

Nancy Schneller Zitzmann ('72) wrote that the following Xavier girls are deceased: Mary Schneller Johnson, Martha Schneller Moore and Jean Schneller Farhatt.

Margaret Boersig Mason ('73) attended Thomas Aquinas College in Santa Paula, California after graduating from Xavier. She then taught junior high in Santa Marino, moved to Washington, D.C. and met her husband there. They both worked on Capitol Hill. Her husband now runs a government agency. They have 10 children - seven boys and three girls. Margaret and David disliked the educational choices for their children and opted to homeschool. They adopted a sibling group of four from Poland while Pope John Paul II was still alive. They have spent time overseas in several countries. The oldest two children now attend Margaret's alma mater and they are both National Merit finalists.

On April 7, 2004, the entire family was nearly killed when their house exploded and burned to the ground in the middle of the night. In less than two minutes, all twelve of them escaped the collapsing home. Because the insurance money was not enough, they have personally rebuilt part of the house as well as furnishings during the past three years. After living in four locations, they recently moved back home.

The family reads a lot, sings, plays classical music, hunts, Alpine skis and swims. The older six children have all sung with the Washington Opera. Everyone is nuts about Cardinal baseball and they are able to hear games when the Redbirds play in Pittsburgh, Chicago, Philadelphia and Washington.

Tracy Feldman Buscher ('75) is a high school Biology teacher. She is active in outdoor sports and, along with her husband and two sons, enjoys horseback riding.
